

Housing Channel (2 Dec 2014)

Super:

Tips for Waste Reduction

VO:

Hi there, I am an advocate for waste reduction
I am good at reducing domestic waste and protecting the environment
In fact, if you pay attention to minor details in your daily lives, you too can become a waste reduction advocate Let me share some handy waste reduction tips with you

Super:

When Shopping

VO:

Be an environmentally friendly consumer before shopping make a shopping list of what you are going to purchase to avoid buying unnecessary items
To reduce waste production always choose durable and reusable products Buying bulk or non-individually packaged products can help to reduce the amount of wrapping paper or packaging for disposal

Super:

At Home

VO:

How can we reduce waste at home?
First, avoid using paper towels in the kitchen
Use a cloth for kitchen cleaning
Use less tissue paper Use towels or handkerchiefs instead, as they can be reused after washing
Also, when buying cleaning products and daily commodities, buy refills whenever possible
Many other daily commodities can be reused, such as envelopes and lai-see packets

Super:

When Dining

VO:

When dining

we can also minimise waste production

For instance, consume food before its expiration date to avoid wastage

Whether you are dining out or at home, be alert to the quantity of food you take

Do not prepare or order too much

Preparing just-right portions reduces food waste and is good for the environment

In addition, always use reusable cutlery, plates and water bottles

By paying attention to these minor details in our daily lives, we can all become advocates for waste reduction

Let's join hands to reduce waste in our community

Super:

Let's join hands to reduce waste in our estates