

Housing Channel Video

Title: Reduce Waste for a Better Future – Up-cycling

Anchorman: How can “up-cycling” help to reduce domestic waste?

Wife: We could transform unwanted items into something useful by “up-cycling” them, which could be fun too. For example, I would turn old reusable shopping bags and used tea leaves into dehumidifying and odour-absorbing bags.

Chan: For me, I like to transform beverage cartons into coin purses; and paper boxes into shoe shelves.

Chung: I am good at turning beverage containers into mosquito traps.

Wife: Actually, all you need is a bit of creativity to transform ordinary things with no value into useful household items, which can reduce waste and save money.

Anchorman: Is there anything else you would like to share with our citizens?

All actors: Waste reduction begins with you.