

Safety & Health Alert No. 61/2023

Labour Department – Online Registration for Courses in Occupational Safety & Health (OSH) Centre and Public Talks on Occupational Health

Date : 18 Oct 2023

Ref. : HD2-7/SHU/108-30/14

In order to enhance employers' & employees' awareness on occupational safety & health (OSH), the Labour Department (LD) organizes regular OSH courses in its Occupational Safety and Health Centre and occupational health public talk in public venues. To facilitate enrolment by public, the LD has newly developed an online registration system for OSH courses and public talks:

Your feedback on the OSH courses or public talks by email ohs-hq@labour.gov.hk or by fax 2581 2049 is welcome.

Besides, Fanling and Kwun Tong Occupational Health Clinics of the Labour Department enhance the occupational health of the working population through prevention, diagnosis and treatment of work-related illnesses. Appointment booking through telephone (Fanling: 3543 5701/ Kwun Tong: 2343 7133) is simple and quick. You can choose an appointment which is convenient for you. No referral is required. Information of the clinics is available at LD's website:
